MESSAGE FROM MR FARRELL

World Book Day at St Anne's – A Fantastic Celebration of Reading!

What a wonderful World Book Day we had yesterday! It was fantastic to see the children's enthusiasm for reading shine through in their incredible costumes. From classic storybook characters to modern favourites, it was clear just how much our pupils love their books!

A huge thank you to Mr Rhodes for organising such a fantastic day and to his Year 3 class for their inspiring assembly. They shared some outstanding written work and poetry, reminding us all of the joy and creativity that reading brings.

At St Anne's, we know that reading is at the heart of learning. It plays a vital role in every child's development, supporting their progress across all areas of the curriculum. That's why we place such a strong emphasis on fostering a love of reading in everything we do.

Thank you to everyone who took part and made the day so special.

Have a wonderful weekend!

WORLD BOOK DAY

CLASSROOM NEWS

Class R went on a bus ride last week to visit the local library. Everybody was able to explore the books available and borrow one to take home. The librarians were very helpful and did a little talk, provided some activities and read a story. All the children were excited to ride on the bus, especially when the return ride was a double decker so we could ride on the top deck and feel on top of the world!

E Safety: Protecting Ourselves Online

Apps and Warning Signs It's essential for parents to be aware of the apps their children use. Platforms with disappearing messages, like Snapchat, or anonymous Q&A sites, may pose risks. Watch for signs like secretive use, sudden mood changes, or interactions with strangers. The NSPCC Online Safety page provides excellent advice on recognizing warning signs and managing online risks effectively.
